Pedestrian dies on freeway; traffic snarls

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A man apparently walking on the freeway in West Sacramento early yesterday morning was struck and killed. The accident caused extended lane closures and traffic delays.

According to the California Highway Patrol incident log, a witness reported at 6:02 a.m. that there was a pedestrian "in dark clothes" walking on the right hand side of westbound I-80 near the Yolo Causeway.

Five minutes later, another witness reported that the pedestrian "possibly ran into traffic and got hit." Others reported there was now a body in the middle lane of the freeway or on the "inside of the fast lane."

West Sacramento firefighters were among those responding to the call.

CHP records indicate a vehicle was ordered towed away as evidence in the investigation. The Highway Patrol predicted that closed lanes would reopen around 10 a.m.yesterday.

Further information, including the identification of the dead man, was not immediately available.

Snag butterfly, win some beer

■ Last year, UC Davis prof won his own contest with a West Sac specimen

The hunt is on:

UC Davis professor Art Shapiro is offering a pitcher of beer, or its cash equivalent, to the person who catches the first cabbage white butterfly (Pieris rapae) of 2012. The wee beasties typically make their first appearance of the season sometime around Jan. 20, give or take.

The catch is that Shapiro, who according to UC Davis usually spends 200 days per year in the field, usually wins his own contest. Last year, he found his first specimen of the season in West Sacramento, sharing the beer with his grad students.

To win, be the first to catch an adult outdoors (look in vacant lots, fields and gardens, especially among weedy mustards) and take the live specimen to the Department of Evolution and Ecology, 2320 Storer Hall at UC Davis. It should keep alive in the fridge for a few days if necessary.

Provide your exact date, time and location of capture, along with your name and contact information (email preferred).

The contest is open to catches made i the counties of Yolo, Sacramento and Solano.

Good luck.

A West Sacramento Girl Scout troop has tried to make a difference in the lives of about 150 dogs awaiting adoption.

Members of the Scouts' "Riverbank" unit joined those from other troops at a birthday party in honor of the birthday of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the Girl Scouts. The West Sacramento scouts collected treats, toys and blankets for needy animals.

At the party – held Nov. 1 at Westmore Oaks Elementary School, the scouts presented their donations to a representative of Kritter Kamp for Elk Grove. A few days later, the girls visited the dog shelter to play with and walk some of the dogs.

"I am going to volunteer to come here and help the animals once I can drive," said 10-year old scout Alexa.

The Riverbank unit in West Sacramento now has almost 20 girls.

For information on the Scouts, visit www.girlscoutshcc.org.

Yolo deputy fires at fleeing suspect

Man allegedly pointed a gun at officer, rammed his patrol car

A man is in custody after an incident Sunday evening in which he allegedly fled from an attempted traffic stop, then pointed a gun at a sheriff's deputy and rammed his patrol car.

According to Yolo County spokesman Mark Persons, the events unfolded last night after a Yolo sheriff's deputy (whose name wasn't provided) tried to stop the suspect's car northbound on I-5 in Woodland, after witnessing it violate traffic laws.

"The vehicle not only failed to stop, (the driver) accelerated to speeds of more than 110 m.p.h., weaving dangerously in and out of traffic while driving with a a willful disregard for the safety of the vehicles around him," said Persons in a press release.

The deputy pursued the suspect until losing sight of him south of Dunnigan. But he soon spotted the vehicle again as it made a U-turn on County Road 8, west of I-5. The deputy again activated his lights.

"After making the U-turn, the suspect vehicle drove toward the deputy's vehicle while the suspect was pointing a gun at the deputy," Persons stated. "The suspect than rammed the deputy's vehicle on the right front side before continuing eastbound on County Road 8. Believing the suspect presented imminent danger to the public, the deputy fired two rounds, striking the suspect vehicle."

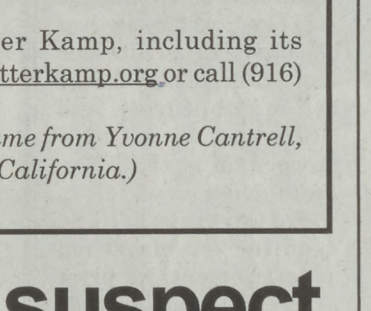
The suspect abandoned the vehicle behind a truck stop and jumped a fence onto I-5. He was spotted by a California Highway Patrol officer, and two CHP officers detained him at gunpoint before the deputy took custody. The suspect was not injured.

A handgun believed to belong to the suspect was found "along the route between where the suspect abandoned his vehicle and where he was located by CHP," said Persons.

The arrested man was identified as John August Scrhoiff, a 28-year old transient.

He's been charged with assault with a deadly weapon likely to cause great bodily injury,assault with a firearm on a peace officer, being an ex-felon in possession of a firearm, and evading a peace officer.

Bail was set at $280,000, and Schroiff is scheduled to be arraigned today.



POLICE LOG

News items below are collected from police dispatchers' notes and arrest reports. The information in them has often not been verified beyond the initial reports.

Dec. 29, 5:05 a.m.

Surveillance video showed two suspects burglarizing a health-related business on the 800-block of Stillwater Road. The pair weren't caught. But police later considered that they might be the same pair of men who were picked up for a burglary on Evergreen Avenue (see the Jan. 1, 11:38 p.m. call below).

Jan. 1, 12 p.m.

A business on the 2200-block of West Capitol Avenue reported being burglarized. Gone were tobacco products, a TV, clothing and food items.

Jan 1, 4:43 p.m.

Police pulled over a BMW with expired registration tags near Park and Jefferson boulevards.

The man and woman inside were both on searchable probation for prior conviction of sale of narcotics. They had an address in a trailer park on the 1000-block of West Capitol.

During a search of the vehicle, police found $2736 in cash.

A different subject in a previous case had been found with 43.48 grams of methamphetamine – and had reported getting it from the same trailer listed as the address of the couple in the BMW. So police now searched that trailer, finding a glass pipe with drug residue and four baggies containing a total of 23.56 grams of methamphetamine. The pair went to jail.

Jan. 1, 5:20 p.m.

Police responded to the report of a fight at a Todhunter Avenue apartment complex.

They talked to an 18-year old man who admitted to punching another man in the chin after the other man yelled at the 18-year old's mother.

The punching victim said he "contacted (the suspect) because he was driving the wrong way in the apartment complex driveway."

After being punched, the victim hit the pavement and received a "large" laceration. He was taken to a

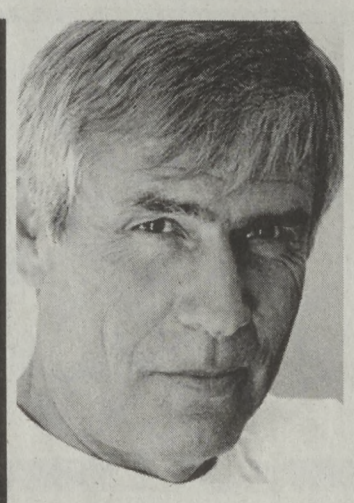
My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

We may be thoughtless buffoons, but we rarely have to stand in line for a public bathroom. And for us, things likes wedding plans just seem to take care of themselves somehow.

I was recently at what can best be described as a social gathering (I hate Christmas parties) when I suddenly found myself within earshot of two very well-dressed women who appeared to be in their late-30s or maybe early-40s. They each had a colorful drink of some kind in their hand and they were obviously feeling no pain. Their faces were also very animated – even flushed -- and it looked like they were having a hard time controlling their anger as they took turns spitting out words at each other. They were also gesturing back and forth as if trying to punctuate their sentences with their free hands. I tried, of course, very hard not to eavesdrop on them, but the acoustics were such that I really couldn't help myself, and I believe part of their rather lengthy conversation went a little something like this:

"It's definitely a man's world!"

"Tell me something I don't know."

"They can stay out all night with their stupid friends from high school and college and come home whenever they please."

"My husband would shoot me if I did that."

"Mine, too!"

"And when they do stay home, they are always hogging the TV watching. their stupid sports stuff."

"I hate football season!

"Baseball season is even worse. That has to be the most boring sport ever created and the games go on forever!"

"No, golf is the most boring sport of them all! I mean, why would anyone want to spend most of a perfectly good day chasing around a little white ball?"

"And men are especially useless at this time of year!"

"Isn't that the truth? They never know what to get anyone for Christmas."

"I do all of the Christmas shopping every year. I even have to buy the gifts for his family. You think he would at least buy his own mother her gift."

"This all starts early on with men, when their mother does everything for them."

"I can't tell you how many men I know who need a mother, not a wife."

"And when they do get married, do they have to worry about birth control and having a whole house-full of children?"

"It never crosses their mind!"

"Do men have to give birth to the next generation?"

"No!"

"Are their bodies covered with stretch marks?"

"Not even on their beer bellies."

"Do they have to take care of the children after we have them?"

"They can't be bothered."

"Do they have to be a mother and also have a career outside the home?"

"Absolutely not!"

"Do they have to do all the grocery shopping?"

"No!"

"Do they ever do any of the cooking?"

"If they do, you usually can't eat it."

"Do they ever make an effort to clean up the house?"

"They're slobs!"

And so the conversation went, including quite a bit of less-than-flattering verbage about what poor lovers most men are, until their husbands finally returned. Then everyone smiled warmly at each other and began acting like they couldn't possibly live without one another. Go figure!

Anyway, the more I got to thinking about it, the more I came to the conclusion that I actually like being a guy, and here are just a few of the reasons (most of them found on the Internet) why other men seem to agree with me:

Our shoes don't cut, blister and mangle our feet.

We're not expected to remember birthdays and anniversaries.

Most of our phone conversations are over in less than a minute.

Movie nudity is almost exclusively female.

A five-day vacation only requires one suitcase.

Bathroom lines at sporting events are 20 times shorter.

We can open all of our own jars.

Our friends don't care if we've recently lost or gained weight.

Dry cleaners and haircutters don't rob us blind.

Our last name always stays put.

We can kill our own food.

We get extra credit for even the slightest act of thoughtfulness.

We can be showered and ready to go in ten minutes.

Our underwear costs $10 for a three-pack.

Wedding plans take care of themselves.

Bachelor parties are more fun than bridal showers.

Everything on our face stays the same color.

Chocolate is just another snack.

We can be President of the United States.

We never have to worry about other people's feelings.

Two pair of shoes are more than enough.

We can whip off our shirts on a hot day.

We don't care if anyone notices our new haircut.

According to my daughter, we can't get mad cow disease because we're all pigs.

Same work, more pay.

Gray hair and wrinkles only add character.

Wedding dresses, $2000; rented tuxes, $100.

If we retain water, it's usually in a glass or canteen.

We don't have to shave below the neck.

And probably most important of all, we don't have to carry around a big bag full of useless stuff everywhere we go.

Check out replica of spunky rover

The 'Opportunity' is still going strong on the surface of Mars after ten years. It was only expected to survive the harsh conditoins on that planet for a fraction of that time. (courtesy photo of replica)

The Discovery Museum Science & Space Center is helping NASA's Mars Exploration Rover Opportunity celebrate ten years of driving on Mars. There are only three full-scale models of the MER rovers. One of those is on public display at the Discovery Museum Science & Space Center in Sacramento, California.

The science center will celebrate with special 10-year anniversary events on Saturday, January 18th, Sunday, January 19th and Monday, January 20th.

The "Opportunity" rover has

- survived raging Martian dust storms that threatened to cover its solar panels in deep dust, blocking out the sun, starving the rover.
- escaped quicksand-like dunes that threatened to entrap the determined rover.
- outlasted five frigid Martian winters with temperatures plummeting to-148 degrees F and decreasing sun power.
- provided the first on-the-ground clues to water on Mars.
- broken the distance record held by the Soviet era Lunokhod rover on the moon. Opportunity has traveled over 24 miles and is still driving.
- gotten old for a Martian rover. Designed to survive 90 days on Mars, she has survived 3,650 days. (How old is your computer?)

The events will include talks by NASA Ambassadors, with time for one-on-one questions, and close up viewing of the Opportunity full-scale model. The Ambassadors will address questions such as:

- How long can Opportunity continue?
- What on-board systems are showing signs of age?
- What is the most likely end for Opportunity? And when?

The Discovery Museum Science & Space Center is a 63-year old non-profit organization. It is located at 3615 Auburn Boulevard, Sacramento 95821

Seasonal jobs open up for hiring at Raley Field

The Sacramento River Cats announced Monday they are hiring for 150-200 seasonal positions in the upcoming 2014 baseball season at Raley Field.

The club—which is entering its 15th season in Sacramento—is hiring clean team members, emergency medical technicians, ushers, "Kids Corner" representatives, Merlino's Freeze workers, and several other seasonal positions. In addition to the seasonal positions, the River Cats are also looking to fill full-time positions in several departments including ticket sales and corporate partnerships.

The first River Cats home game of the season is set for Friday, April 11, at 7:05 p.m. when the Salt Lake Bees—Triple-A affiliate of the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim—come to town.

Those interested in applying are asked to visit www.rivercats.com for more information.

Many Sacramento-area museums open doors for free on Sat., February 1

Thirty Sacramento-area museums will offer either free or half-priced admission from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, February 1, to celebrate the 16th Annual Sacramento Museum Day.

28 of the 30 museums will offer free admission, whereas two destinations located in residential areas -- the Sacramento Zoo and Fairytale Town -- will offer half-priced admission to offset parking control and security costs. Coordinated by the Sacramento Association of Museums (SAM) and the Sacramento Convention & Visitors Bureau, this event is also sponsored by Chipotle Mexican Grill.

Many of the museums are within walking distance of each other and easily accessible via public transportation. Event coordinators suggest that guests plan to visit no more than two or three different museums on this day in order to allow adequate time to enjoy the experience and to travel between individual sites.

Some of the destinations are offering special activities during Sacramento Museum Day. For instance, the Aerospace Museum will offer an "open cockpit" day where most aircraft will be open for viewing (weather permitting), a children's art contest and on-site exhibitors such as the Tuskegee Airmen. And, some of today's big monster tractors will hit the road to make a special trip to be on display at the Heidrick Ag History Center in Woodland.

"We are very excited to continue this popular annual tradition and we are proud to welcome two new museums to the event this year," said Sacramento Association of Museums Chair Kristina Swanson in a press release. "With each passing year, more and more community members are introduced to the amazing array of arts, culture and museum offerings available in the Sacramento region. And, we are especially pleased that Chipotle Mexican Grill has continued as a title sponsor. The support of generous corporate sponsors is invaluable and helps to make Sacramento Museum Day possible each year."

While admission is free at 28 of the participating museums during Sacramento Museum Day, admission to two destinations located in residential areas are half-priced as follows: Sacramento Zoo is $5.75 for adults, $3.75 for children ages 2-11 and free for children under two; Fairytale Town is $2.50 per person and free for children ages one and under.

Some locations must limit the number of admissions for safety reasons. The event is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. but note the last guests will be admitted at 4 p.m. More detailed information about participating museums, addresses, limitations, suggested parking and public transit options is available at www.sacmuseums.org (click on "Events"), or by calling the Sacramento Convention & Visitors Bureau at (916) 808-7777.

Here's a list of participating museums:

Aerospace Museum of California – California Automobile Museum – The California Museum – California State Capitol Museum – California State Military Museum – California State Railroad Museum – California Statewide Museum Collections Center – Center for Contemporary Art, Sacramento – Center for Sacramento History – Crocker Art Museum – Discovery Museum Science and Space Center – Don & June Salvatori California Pharmacy Museum – Fairytale Town – Governor's Mansion State Historic Park – Heidrick Ag History Center (Woodland) – Leland Stanford Mansion State Historic Park – Maidu Museum & Historic Site (Roseville) – Museum of Medical History – Old Sacramento Schoolhouse Museum – Old Sacramento State Historic Park – Roseville Utility Exploration Center – Sacramento Children's Museum – Sacramento Historic City Cemetery – Sacramento History Museum – Sacramento Zoo – Sojourner Truth Multicultural Arts Museum – State Indian Museum – Sutter's Fort State Historic Park – Wells Fargo History Museum (Capitol Mall) – Wells Fargo History Museum (Old Sacramento) hospital, and the suspect was arrested.

Jan. 1, 11:38 p.m.

Police responded to a business burglar alarm on the 3200-block of Evergreen Avenue. The alarm company reported it was currently watching, on video, as two men walked inside a locked fenced area next to the business's building.

Police detained two men in the parking lot. One was carrying a duffel and the other a backpack.

"Both suspects had a large amount of brand new, wrapped merchandise such as grinding tools and several pieces of small hardware," reported an officer.

On the property, the door to a trailer had been found open. The trailer contained items "identical" to those found in the suspects' possession.

The two suspects – a 24-year old from Pecan Street and a 22-year old from Michigan Blvd. – went to jail.

Jan. 1, 9:30 p.m.

A Hobson Way woman reported that an acquaintance had stolen and cashed several of her checks.

Jan. 2, 2:10 p.m.

An Alabama Court man said he had ordered a 33-year old transient woman to leave his property, saying she would be arrested if she didn't.

The woman didn't leave, and the man signed a citizen's arrest.

Jan. 2, 7 p.m.

An Alvin Street house was found burglarized when its resident returned home.

Jan. 2, 10:24 p.m.

Police responded to a disturbance on the 1500-block of West Capitol. A 31-year old Highland Drive man was in an argument. Police reported he appeared drunk and "spit towards officers and kicked an officer on the leg." He went to jail.

Jan. 2, 11:01 p.m.

An officer reported that he watched a 33-year old man from Walnut Street walking westbound on the 1800-block of West Capitol, next to a motel.

The subject "observed my marked patrol unit and immediately went into the driveway," reported the officer.

The officer followed and contacted the man, who admitted he was on probation. He was ordered to sit on the police car's bumper while the officer searched him, and checked a nearby location where he had been seen discarding something.

"I located a clear plastic bag with a solid crystal-like substance inside," the officer later wrote.

The suspect "admitted under Miranda (a verbal warning about his legal rights) that he threw the meth (in order to) not get in trouble by WSPD." He went to jail.

Jan. 3, 2:04 p.m.

Someone stole 90 cartons of cigarettes from a vehicle next to a liquor store on the 900-block of Sacramento Avenue. The loss was valued at $3,054.

Jan. 3, 9:10 p.m.

A 21-year old Greenmeadow Road man was arrested for vandalism at his listed place of residence.

Jan. 4, 1:13 a.m.

A chase resulted after police responded to a motion detection alarm at a business on the 700-block of Harbor Blvd.

They saw one suspect "hiding, ducking down within the fenced perimeter of this closed business."

Police ordered him to lay down – but the man ran away.

"He jumped fences, scaled several residential rooftops and ran through several yards for approximately 10 minutes," one officer reported.

A police helicopter aided the search.

A W.S.P.D. sergeant "was able to physically subdue the subject in a residential yard" on Flossie Avenue. He had a four-inch screwdriver in one pocket.

The owner of the burglarized business showed police that someone had opened some metal cabinets and the door of an unlocked minivan on the property, as well as the door of a trailer used for storage.

The suspect, a 23-year old homeless man, went to jail.

On his left arm, police noted, was a tattoo that read, "Not Guilty."

Jan. 4, 3:20 a.m.

An officer saw a 26-year old Carmichael man on a bike turn illegally across a double-yellow line near Sacramento Avenue and Kegle Drive. The officer noted that the man was wearing a black backpack.

The officer attempted a traffic stop, but the cyclist rode into a nearby parking lot. The officer then attempted to get in front of the bike and block it with his patrol car – but the cyclist pedaled around him and into a nearby alley. He got away.

But about four minutes later, the officer saw the suspect again on Cummins Way, and, again activating his patrol car lights, successfully stopped the man -- who was not wearing the backpack. The suspect admitted he was on searchable probation, and was arrested for "resistance/obstruction."

A search turned up two baggies containing 0.6 grams of methamphetamine. The backpack was found in a Fremont Boulevard yard. It contained a glass drug pipe, bolt cutters and a bike lock.

Jan. 4, 5 p.m.

Someone broke into a locked vehicle at a business on the 700-block of Harbor Boulevard. The burglar took some gloves.

Jan. 4, 5 p.m.

Somebody stole some copper wiring from the condensers on the roof of a business on the 2200-block of West Capitol.

Jan. 4, 5:07 p.m.

A 47-year old Trinity Way woman was arrested on an outstanding warrant.

Jan. 5, 2:24 a.m.

Police were dispatched to Touchstone Place regarding a fight.

They found two men – an assault victim and a witness – near one residential unit. The victim had several bleeding cuts on his hands. He said he had been in a fight with his 28-year old roommate, and the suspect had grabbed a knife and tried to stab him twice.

"Both times, (the victim) placed his hands in front of him to try to grab the knife from the suspect to prevent being stabbed," reported an officer.

The suspect was reported to be inside a nearby unit. Police found him and saw "in plain view" a "large, fixed-blade knife" with blood on it. The suspect was identified by the victim, and arrested.

Jan. 5, 6:45 a.m.

A Sacramento woman reported a "friend" had stolen her wallet while she was on Evergreen Avenue in West Sacramento.

Jan. 5, 4:50 p.m.

An officer saw a man parked behind a closed business, and contacted him.

"On consent search, I located a green leafy substance which had the appearance and odor of marijuana," reported the officer, "as well as a steel collapsible baton under the passenger seat."

The man, an 18-year old from Suisun Bay Road, "admitted owning both."

He said he had the baton because he "recently 'got his ass kicked' and the baton was for his protection."

The man was not carrying a medical marijuana card. He went to jail.

Jan 5, 6:32 p.m.

An officer recognized a woman he saw walking eastbound on the 3200-block of West Capitol Avenue as a 21-year old Pine Street woman with a felony warrant. Contacting her, the officer arrested her and found her with a couple of plastic baggies containing 0.6 grams of methamphetamine.

The woman "admitted the substance was methamphetamine and stated she was delivering it to two subjects at a trailer park." She also admitted having used "meth" earlier.

Jan. 5, 7 p.m.

A Lighthouse Drive woman reported that someone had "tampered" with her door.

Free help for your 'problem' dog

From the County of Yolo

Yolo County's Mary L. Stephens Davis Branch Library, located at 315 East 14th Street in Davis, welcomes veterinarian, animal behaviorist and author Dr. Sophia Yin, for a speaking engagement on Wednesday evening, January 22, 5:30 to 9:00 p.m. Dr. Yin will present two back-to-back lectures: "Teaching Fido to Learn to Earn: developing leadership in humans and impulse control in dogs" and "Help! My Dog Barks and Lunges at Other Dogs!: how to handle your fearful or reactive dog."

Dogs will learn impulse control and to look to humans for guidance. In her follow-up lecture, Dr. Yin will present a comprehensive plan for helping fearful or reactive dogs overcome their behavioral problems through desensitization and counter conditioning training. At the end of the evening owners will understand how to successfully use these exercises to help their dog when overreacting to other dogs, people, sounds or veterinarians. Participants will learn the connection between aggression, fear and inadequate socialization, and how to read a dog's body language to avoid worse behavior. This workshop will help owners gain the skills and knowledge necessary to help their dogs overcome behavioral problems and reach their potential.

The program will be held in the Blanchard Room of the Mary L. Stephens Davis Branch Library, which is accessible for persons with disabilities. No reservations are required and the program is free. For more information about this program, contact Joan Tuss at joan.tuss@yolocounty.org. For more information about the Yolo County Library, visit: www.yolocountylibrary.org, or connect with the Yolo County Library on Facebook at www.facebook.com/yolocountylibrary.org.

Tom Hanks in 'Captain Phillips'

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Captain Phillips" (PG-13) -- When Somali pirates hijacked an American commercial ship in 2009, a gripping story played out for five days over the worldwide news. In this dramatic retelling of the events, the real-life action becomes a powerful thriller fuelled by bigger ideas. Tom Hanks stars as the titular captain, a hardworking everyman who must face off with the pirate captain (Barkhad Abdi).

Even though you know how the story ends, director Paul Greengrass delivers forceful suspense on top of social commentary that doesn't feel forced. Tom Hanks is at his stoic best, matched only by his foil -- the desperate, emaciated pirate captain who wears a thin mask of thunder and bravado. Out there on the ocean, both men struggle with forces beyond their control.

"Blue Jasmine" (PG-13) -- Jasmine (Cate Blanchett) is a shiny member of the Manhattan elite who moves into her sister's house (and the real world) after the financial collapse. Jasmine's sister, Ginger (Sally Hawkins), is down-to-earth, but suffers from a chronic lack of judgment with men. Still, it's Jasmine who is truly a mess -- in the same breath, she gripes about her first-class flight from New York and then moans about how penniless she is.

This is easily among the best work Woody Allen has produced in the past decade or so. The movie cuts in flashbacks to Jasmine's old life while showing the present-day turning point of her moving into her sister's working-class San Francisco apartment. You're never entirely sure which way the story is going, who is right and who deserves sympathy.

"In a World ..." (R) -- First-time writer and director Lake Bell is more than a breath of fresh air, she's a new set of lungs for the dramatic comedy. Bell plays Carol, a voice coach for voice-over artists. Her ambition is to become a fixture in the world of movie-trailer voices -- a tough nut to crack, especially when the field is a boys' club governed by her father. Bell is backed by an ensemble of comedic actors on their A-games (Nick Offerman, Rob Corddry, Ken Marino and Tig Notaro).

"Instructions Not Included" (PG-13) -- Director and start Eugenio Derbez brings us a cute dramedy about growing up and sticking up for what we want. Valentin (Eugenio Derbez) lived the easy life until an old fling dropped off a baby daughter at his doorstep. Valentin learns to love and rely on the little girl as he builds a career as a Hollywood stuntman. The tone shifts to a deeper note when the mother returns six years later, and Valentin realizes he could lose the new center of his life.

"Eleanor & Park" by Rainbow Rowell (St. Martin's Griffin, $18.99) Reviewed by Cindy Elavsky

"Eleanor & Park" tells the story of a school year (1986-87) in the life of the titular characters. The reader gets a bird's-eye view (or should I say bus-eye view) from their first encounter and getting to know one another to their falling in love. Don't worry: It's not a teen-angsty, cutesy book. Rowell delves deep into the characters of both Eleanor and Park, so much so that they practically jump out of the page, sit next to you and read the book along with you (like Eleanor and Park do on their bus ride to school sharing a "Watchmen" comic).

Rowell perfectly captures the tentative awkwardness that one feels as a teenager who isn't quite used to her body, her hormones or the opposite sex. From the electricity of that first touch from someone you have feelings for -- hoping upon hope that he feels the same way -- to the insecurity with one's body and the topsy-turvy butterfly stomach of your first kiss, Rowell expertly plumbs those adolescent depths.

Of course, it's not all unicorns and butterflies. Eleanor has to deal with some major issues at home, as well as being the target of bullies at school. And Park's issues stem from not feeling fully accepted by his macho father, or the town in general, since he doesn't fit the All-American Boy standard.

I also have to mention the main characters' (and Rowell's) great taste in music. This book's soundtrack will have you rushing to your iTunes account to buy some of these songs that you only had on cassette or vinyl 25 years ago and really want to hear again.

Rowell's sophomore effort (her first novel is the superb "Attachments") is a dandy, and I highly recommend it to anyone looking for a wonderful story to lose themselves in.

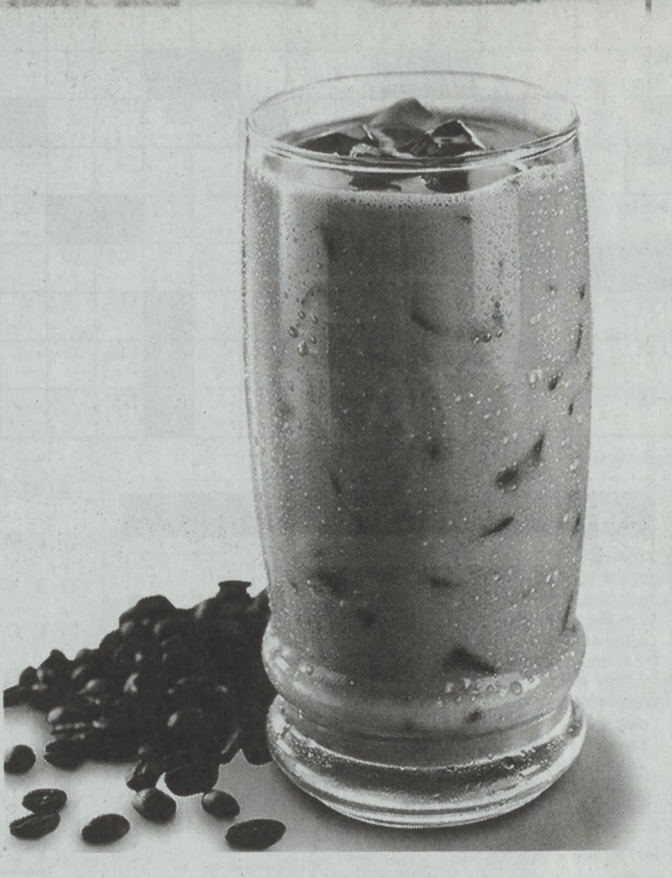
The Kitchen Diva

By Angela Shelf Medearis

Walk Your Way to Better Health



Ancient Greek physician Hippocrates (known as the father of Western medicine) once said, "Walking is man's best medicine." What a relatively simple and inexpensive pill to take to make such a big impact on maintaining and improving your health.

The inspiration for my renewed interest in walking is Sheri Simson, aka "The Pole Lady." Pole walking is an exercise where you walk with two poles that look like ski poles. It's a low-impact exercise that not only makes walking more beneficial, it actually takes less effort and is easier on the body. I have joint pain, so walking is just about the only exercise that I can effectively do. Walking with poles boosts the benefits of my exercise. It basically turns a simple walk around the block into an aerobic total body workout.

Pole walking is a rhythmic, energizing form of exercise that uses a specially designed pair of walking poles that helps you (with less effort) use your entire body rather than just your lower body. It's like skiing without the skis or the snow. I like to call it "Texas skiing"!

Pole walking originated from the sport of cross-country skiing. It's believed to have started around the 1930s, when the cross-country ski coaches of Finland were struggling to keep their athletes in peak form during the offseason. It soon became popular with non-athletes once they discovered the total-body benefits and the overall fun of pole walking, and it spread throughout Northern Europe. Pole walking, also known as Nordic walking, has only recently been seen here in North America -- but it is here to stay!

You use less than 50 percent of your major muscles when walking without poles. Walking with fitness poles, you use more than 90 percent of your major muscles. The poles help to spread your weight out, lessening the load when your feet hit the ground by 26 percent. This makes a big difference for people like me who have back, hip, knee, ankle or foot problems. Walking with poles also naturally aligns your spine and strengthens your core with each step -- helping you to stand and sit taller. I usually lose a pound a day when I walk using the Keenfit Walking Poles.

You don't have to walk as far or work as hard. Walking poles help to increase your cardio by 20 percent and your calorie burn by up to 48 percent without any extra effort. And 30 minutes of pole walking is equal to 50 minutes of regular walking. It's one of the most beneficial and rewarding activities that you'll ever do.

Studies on walking and health have determined that patients with knee arthritis who walked three times a week "reduced their rates of pain and disability by 47 percent." Patients at high risk for diabetes who walked and made other healthy lifestyle changes reduced their risk by 58 percent. Walking has been shown to reduce anxiety, and it is the No. 1 treatment for improving sleep.

Before starting your walk, try drinking a caffeinated drink. A recent study found that not only can caffeine wake you up -- it can also boost your reactive ability (the ability to change direction quickly). According to Women's Health, just one cup can often make a difference in your quickness/alertness -- so maybe you should meet friends for coffee before your pole walk rather than after.

If you prefer a cool drink before working out, try my recipe for Greek Iced Coffee. It provides caffeine, antioxidants, a little boost of calcium and protein. The new year brings a new opportunity to take charge of your health. Happy pole walking!

Recycle that tree

There are a couple of ways for West Sacramento residents to recycle their used, formerly-live Christmas trees. Choose from the following options after removing all decorations from the tree:

First, you may cut it into small enough (less than three-foot) sections and fit the pieces into your yard waste cart or bundled next to it, for pickup on your regular service day.

Third, you may recycle your Christmas tree (limit two per person) to the Yolo County Landfill between Woodland and Davis. The landfill will also recycle your old electronics, such as computers, TVs and monitors now made obsolete by your new holiday gifts. For more information, call (530) 666-8729 or visit www.yolocounty.org.

Food giveaway

The Yolo Food Bank will distribute free food items to eligible West Sacramento and Clarksburg residents on January 21. Please bring a bag, and visit only one of the sites. For information, call (530) 668-0690.

The financing is bound to the property rather than the individual or business on it, and transfers with the property to a new owner like a property tax.

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard, unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y mas información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede mas cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le de un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. On January 28, 2014, at 9:00am, Cal-western Reconveyance Llc, as duly appointed trustee under and pursuant to Deed of Trust recorded January 26, 2007, as Inst. No. 2007-0003244-00 in book XX, page XX of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Yolo County, State of California, executed by Karl Machschefes and Jane Machschefes, Husband And Wife As Joint Tenants, will sell at public auction to highest bidder for cash, cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in section 5102 of the financial code and authorized to do business in this state: At the rear (north) entrance to the city hall building 1110 West Capitol Avenue West Sacramento, California, all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as: Completely described in said deed of trust The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 2845-2855 Allan Avenue Aka 2845 W Allan Ave West Sacramento CA 95691 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be held, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, condition or encumbrances, including fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust, to pay the remaining principal sums of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $427,286.73. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (619)590-1221 or visit the internet website www.dlpplic.com, using the file number assigned to this case 1384113-31. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web Site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. For sales information:(619)590-1221. Cal-Western Reconveyance LLC, 525 East Main Street, P.O. Box 22004, El Cajon, CA 92022-9004 Dated: December 10, 2013. (DLPP-435348 01/08/14, 01/15/14, 01/22/14)
